

FORGOTTEN MAN IS REMEMBERED TO HIS DAMAGE

—COL. THEO. ROOSEVELT

Says Entire Incomes Of Little Men are Pay- ing the Bill

Providence, R. I., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, president of the National Republican Club said today that the NRA and AAA were preparing the way for a dictatorship in the United States.

"Both NRA and AAA contravene specifically certain of our fundamental concepts of government," he said, addressing a Republican state rally at Crescent Park.

By "arrogating" to itself powers surrounding business codes, Roosevelt asserted, the administration had assumed "executive legislation, administering and judging, which in its essence is dictatorship and nothing else."

He voiced opposition to NRA and AAA on grounds they had hindered recovery, bred monopoly, damaged small business, made the farmer "dependent on the government for alms," because they were contradictory in operation, and:

Little Man Pays
"Above all, I am opposed and always will be opposed to both because they damage our American system of government, infringe the liberties of our people, and prepare the way for an autocracy or dictatorship."

By raising the purchase price of basic articles, Roosevelt said, the entire income of the "little man" was being used to pay the bill.

"The forgotten man" has been remembered, and to his great damage," he said.

"I do not see that the farm policy could be considered as anything but a colossal failure."

Of NRA, he said that it had hindered prosperity.

FORMER BROKER LOSES FIGHT TO REGAIN LIBERTY

Chicago Judge Orders Dobry Returned to Davenport, Iowa

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Dudley A. Dobry, former Davenport, Ia., broker, was remanded to the custody of Iowa officers today when Judge Harry M. Fisher in Criminal Court dismissed his petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

The court refused him freedom on learning that Dobry never had posted the $1,000 cost bond required by the Iowa supreme court by his appeal.

Dobry was wanted in Scott county, Iowa, for forfeiting $6,000 bond posted upon conviction under the Iowa securities laws. The cost bond, however, was not furnished and Judge Fisher, acting chief justice, said: "Since he did not furnish the bond demanded by the Iowa supreme court I have no jurisdiction in the case."

Governor Horner already had approved extradition.

Dobry's attorney asked leave to appeal Judge Fisher's ruling, and was allowed until tomorrow to post $10,000 bond for such an appeal. If the bond is not posted, the remanding order will stand and the Iowa officers will be given custody.

GREAT EXODUS OF DIXONITES IS DUE SUNDAY

Special Excursion to Chicago Will Leave at 6 O'clock A. M.

The advance sale of tickets for Sunday's excursion to Chicago, via the Northwestern, indicates that Dixon will almost become a "deserted village" on the Sabbath. The special excursion train, which will leave the Northwestern station here promptly at 6 o'clock, will be made up here and ample coaches will be provided to carry the throng which will take advantage of the unusually low fare.

Reorganization of Schools Will Save State $47,776,574

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—In a report on a survey of 9,691 one-room schools in the state, Barnett Hodes, a member of the Illinois State Tax Commission, said reorganization could save the state $47,776,574.

Hodes said yesterday that the saving could be accomplished by reducing the number of schoolhouses to 5,722, with the number of pupils at each school fixed at 25.

"The study I have given the problem convinces me that the present rural public education system is an anachronism," he said.

The average cost per pupil in the rural school annually is $80," he said, compared with $50 in Chicago.

His survey showed the average attendance per rural school was 14.8 pupils.

LAST ESCORT OF DEAD COED HELD FOR HER MURDER

Alabama Girl, Throat Cut, Found Dead in a Ditch

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 23.—(AP)—The knife which gave Faye New, Howard College co-ed, two mortal wounds today was the object of a painstaking search of the area surrounding the shallow ditch in which the girl's body was found.

As officers pursued their inquiry into the slaying, Miss New's sorrowing parents accompanied her to Heflin, Ala., their old home, where a quiet churchyard will be her final resting place.

In county jail sat Harold Taylor, her escort on an automobile ride Monday night which ended with death in a ditch for Faye and a charge of murder against the man.

Taylor, son of a former City Comptroller, reaffirmed denial of the girl's slaying when questioned by detectives.

Protest Innocence
"I didn't do it," he repeatedly told officers. "The girl was unhurt when she jumped from my automobile and ran into the woods Monday night."

A. B. Cain, Miss New's suitor, was exonerated by police and released last night. He said he saw Miss New enter the automobile with Taylor and followed the couple to the city limits, where he lost them.

Miss New's body was found face up in a ditch into which Coroner Evans said she had been thrown after fighting for her life.

Two Gashes in Throat
Two deep gashes in her throat, where both mortal wounds, ended a struggle during which she was choked, scratched and beaten, an autopsy report said. The spot where she left his automobile after an argument.

Taylor, viewing the body, denied any part in the girl's death. "She was unhurt when she ran into the woods from my car," he said.

Cain collapsed when he looked at the dead girl. To Chief Luther Hollums before the body was found he said: "I loved Faye and wanted to marry her."

Shoes Fit Tracks

Detectives checked both men's stories. Taylor continued to assert his innocence. Detective McCoy Helton said Taylor's shoes fit perfectly tracks found leading from the ditch where the body was found.

Suddenly, at 11:30 P. M. last night, Chief Hollums announced Taylor was en route to county jail, charged with murder.

Today the girl's grief-stricken parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lon New, will accompany her only child, Faye, to their old home in Heflin, Ala., where funeral services will be held.

RANKING CUBAN OFFICER MUST FACE GUN SQUAD

Two Convicted of Con- spiracy Against Com- mander in Chief

Havana, Aug. 23.—(AP)—President Mendieta today confirmed a court martial sentence of death on two high officers of the Cuban army found guilty of conspiracy to overthrow the government but he deferred the date of their execution.

Havana, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Two high ranking Cuban army officers were sentenced to death by a court martial today for participation in a revolutionary plot against Col. Fulgencio Batista, commander-in-chief of the army.

Major Angel Echevarria and Captain Augustin Elice, commander of the Army Signal Corps, were convicted of participation in the plot in an early morning trial at Camp Columbia, outside Havana.

The revolt was crushed in Pinar del Rio province before it could get started. It was planned for September 4, the anniversary of the rebellion by which Batista, a former sergeant, established himself at the head of the army.

Reports that eight enlisted men were shot to death when the revolt was smashed were denied officially, but several newspapers said they were true.

Within 24 Hours

The whirlwind developments saw the conspiracy discovered, thwarted, the suspects arrested and tried within the space of 24 hours.

Hundreds of soldiers, sitting in the picturesque open-air army theater at Camp Columbia, outside Havana, heard witness after witness testify Colonel Mario Hernandez, youthful military commander of Pinar del Rio and Maj. Echevarria led the plot to overthrow Batista and kill him if necessary.

Hernandez was shot and wounded while resisting arrest at his home, a government statement said, and died in an automobile accident while being brought to Havana.

Half a dozen high-ranking officers testified Hernandez and Echevarria tried to enlist their support in the movement to overthrow Batista and that Captain Augustin Elice, commander of the Army Signal Corps, acted as messenger in "passing the word along."

Captain Elice and Echevarria pleaded not guilty when they faced the court-martial.

The first letter states that the treasury has information the person or firm addressed has had stock, bond or commodity transactions in the United States.

"In order to verify the information received concerning your income," the letter said, "it is requested that you advise the location of the collector's office in the United States where your income tax returns were filed for the years 1929 to 1933, inclusive."

The letter includes such persons to file returns if they have not and asks for "detailed information on the transactions in question."

UNION DEADLOCK BLOCKS SETTLE- MENT OF STRIKE

Two Chicago Drivers' Unions Unable to Agree Today

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A three cornered deadlock blocked settlement of the Chicago Motor Coach Company strike today.

Federal labor conciliators asked company officials yesterday to renege 24 members of the striking union who had been dismissed, but trustees of the company union, who are carrying on regular service, opposed the plan.

Claiming a membership of 95 percent of the employees, one trustee of the company union was reported to have threatened a strike of his group if the 24 members of the rival union were returned to their jobs.

Reinstatement of the men was one of the demands of the striking union which charged they were dismissed for union activities.

WITHHELD GENERAL STRIKE

The statement came after a brief conference with William Taber, secretary-treasurer of the Chicago surface lines union local.

The executive board Monday received from two officials of the elevated lines local in Chicago a request for authorization of a sympathy strike, but withheld action pending the arrival of Taber, as spokesman for the surface lines employees.

Strike News of Today Condensed for Quick Reading

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Uncle Sam generously spread his recovery salves over the nation's strike-pocked labor situation today and prepared further applications. Reactions varied.

Soon after the administration ordered hours reduced in the cotton garment industry yesterday, the NRA labor board agreed to insist on reopening the automobile manufacturers' code. The American Federation of Labor seeks wage and hour revisions in the motor car factories.

George A. Sloan, president of Cotton-Textile Institute, said at New York that "impartial government economists" have determined the impending nation-wide strike of cotton textile workers to be unjustified. He asserted no field had increased its workers' benefits under as much the NRA as had the cotton textile industry.

Uncle Sam's bureau of labor statistics is making a detailed study of the effect of NRA codes on employment, wages and hours in various industries, including the textile, for future guidance.

Robert Bruere, chairman of the cotton textile industrial relations board, has completed a statement which is believed to offer an alternative to the textile strike. He is seeking the approval of other government officials before making it public.

Labor called the Aluminum Company of America's rejection of the labor department's peace proposals "a challenge of the authority vested in the Federal government by Congress." In its statement the National Council of Aluminum Workers denied that the plan to end their strike involves a closed shop, as the company said.

Uncle Sam had his own strike problem in Milwaukee, where the FERA authorities ordered resumption of all projects today despite the injury of four men in a sharp clash last night between 1,000 strike pickets and 75 FERA workers.

Things "look very much better" to the mediators seeking a solution of the Chicago union bus drivers' strike and Minneapolis is enjoying normalcy after the end of the truck drivers' strike.

H. H. Reed, representative of the national mediation board, was served at Richmond, Va., in injunction proceedings intended to block an election among Chesapeake & Ohio Railway clerks. The poll was to start today at Newport News.

Union workers in the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants in St. Louis decided to appeal to President Roosevelt and Secretary Perkins after the national automobile labor board postponed a hearing on 26 cases of alleged discrimination against union workers who were not rehired by the two companies.

Approximately 400 bathrobe workers in Red Bank, N. J., reported for work as usual today, refusing to heed a strike call sent out by the bathrobe workers union. A plant official termed the union "a racket composed of Communists."

Two hundred dye workers in North Bergen, N. J., voted to strike to force recognition of their union.

Think Wooden Leg

Provided Means in Indiana Jail Break

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Hamilton county officials today indicated a wooden leg may have provided the means for Indiana's latest jail break.

The leg belonged to William H. Walcott, a crippled member of the prison guard, who was suspected yesterday in sawing through eleven bars to escape from the county jail here. One of the fugitives, Lowell Driskell, was recaptured last night at Indianapolis, Mason and the others remain at large.

Sheriff Frank Hattery and officials investigating the break recalled that a new artificial limb recently was delivered by a friend to Mason. The three alleged back-saw blades may have been hidden in it.

RICHBERG, NEC DIRECTOR, "ON SPOT", HE SAYS

Permanent Structure of NRA Cause of Of- ficial Split

Washington, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Administration officials concerned with reorganization of the NRA agreed today there had been differences of opinion over transforming the emergency recovery machine into a more permanent outfit, but predicted an early settlement.

While refusing to be quoted, these officials said they felt published reports that a serious rift had occurred between Hugh S. Johnson on the one hand and other presidential advisors, including Donald R. Richberg and Secretary Perkins on the other, had gone too far.

Richberg, director of the national emergency council, which discussed the reorganization with President Roosevelt Tuesday before the latter left for the Rainey funeral, expressed confidence the discussions would "proceed to a point of definite action, but

FIRST GIVE-AND-TAKE TREATY TO BE WITH CUBANS

Uncle Sam to Surrender
Big Chunk of Revenue in Pact

Washington, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The government apparently is going to surrender a substantial chunk of revenue to Cuba in an effort to help American farms and factories regain export markets in the island.

All indications today were that the United States will slash duties on Cuban sugar by about $10,000,000 in a reciprocal trade treaty which is to be signed and proclaimed here tomorrow. If the trade scheme works out, this money and more will come back as increased income for American farmers and industry.

It is understood the United States makes concessions also to Cuban tobacco, pineapples, winter vegetables and fruits, and liquors in return for which Cuba knocks down her tariff barriers for scores of American agricultural and manufactured products.

This is the first of the give-and-take treaties to be signed under new powers granted the president by congress.

The duty on Cuban sugar, imported sources believed, will be cut 50 cents a hundred pounds. This will be the chief concession to the island republic. Such a duty decrease would mean about $19,000,000 more to the Cuban sugar interests on their quota of 1,900,000 tons annually, and $19,000,000 less for the federal treasury.

Officials frankly acknowledge that the reciprocal drive launched with the Cuban treaty is a big experiment in rebuilding foreign trade.

The new agreement temporarily replaces the permanent trade pact of 1902. It runs for three years, after which it can be ended within 60 months by either government.

League Studies Problems of the Consumers and Workers

Consumers' and workers problems are the two principal classifications in the program of study for members of the League of Women Voters interested in the Department of Government and Economic Welfare, according to Mrs. Maurice A. Pollak, State Chairman.

Under consumers' problems fall such subjects for investigation as economic planning, regulation of public utilities in their federal, state and local aspects, tariff adjustments and trade agreements, and the administration of public relief.

"The study of administration of public relief will be considered from three angles: permanent governmental departments, emergency governmental agencies and private agencies," Mrs. Pollak states, "Although the number of families on relief has been decreased by two million since March 1933, there still remain in the summer of 1934, two and a half million families receiving public aid. At present we are relying for relief upon emergency measures taken by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, but social workers are pointing out the fact that 'emergency' is becoming a misnomer and we must now face the necessity for long time planning. What is to be the relief set-up of the future?"

Three items of particular importance are listed for consideration in connection with the study of the workers' problems: working conditions of Illinois women, the standards of living, and labor boards.

"The League of Women Voters is concerned with the effort to promote economic welfare through governmental action," Mrs. Pollak says, in discussing the work of the League's Department of Government and Economic Welfare. "It studies the problems of citizens as producers (workers) and as consumers and looks for their solution in the public interest."

"The League also adheres to the fundamental principle of collective bargaining as a means of giving workers a share in the control of the conditions of their employment."

Mrs. Pollak announced that kit material for local chairmen in her department will soon be ready for distribution.

Olive Wollacott And Homer Carpenter Are Married

Wednesday morning Homer Carpenter and Miss Olive Wollacott took the marriage vows at the altar of the Methodist church in Rochelle, the pastor, Rev. R. W. Putnam, reading the service. Attending the couple were Miss Ethel Harr and Robert Plannigan. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about twenty relatives and friends.

The bride wore a navy blue ensemble and her attendant was attired in black crepe.

A wedding reception followed the marriage service, at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Wollacott.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wollacott, graduated from the Rochelle high school with the class of 1927 and has been an employee in the Whitcomb Co. offices. The groom, who is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carpenter, has a position with the Caron Spinning Co.

After a brief honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter will take up their residence in the Lang apartments on Lincoln Highway. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for their future welfare and happiness.

Picnic Supper For Miss Seiling

The employees and the manager, H. Kauffman, of the Kline department store enjoyed a beefsteak fry and picnic supper at Lowell Park Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Millie Seiling, faithful bookkeeper and cashier at the store for the past several years who is leaving the store to take a special course in nursing, which profession she has chosen to follow. The evening was a happy one for all present, tinged with the regret of losing Miss Seiling, which cloud, however, has a silver lining, as Miss Seiling's sister, has accepted her position at the store.

As a happy surprise to Miss Seiling she was presented with a lovely electric clock from those present with their best wishes for success in her future work, and she cordially thanked the donors, expressing her appreciation for the gift and the kindness prompting it.

Second Annual Kersten Reunion Was Delightful Affair

The second annual Kersten reunion was held at Rochelle, Illinois at the Memorial park on Sunday August 19th. The day was very favorable and inviting and as a result there was a total of two hundred and eighty-seven of the Kersten clan present to partake of a bountiful chicken dinner.

A committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Kersten, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kersten Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ploutz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gleim and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kersten served coffee and ice cream to this large gathering and later provided a very interesting program.

The Kersten orchestra played "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here", followed by Iowa and Illinois as a welcome to the large number who had come from a distance. A family album was then brought to light and as several of the committee looked it over they told about some of the interesting things that had occurred twenty or more years ago. Interspersed throughout the entire program were solos and numbers by several quartets and string ensembles.

During the program the Silver Loving Cup was again presented to Mrs. Anna E. Albrecht since she was the oldest person present, having just passed her ninety-second birthday. The youngest Kersten present was also presented with a smaller cup for her attainment. This was the seven-year-old Joan Marie Vaupel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Vaupel.

The program was followed by a short business meeting. Clarence C. Kersten, the president, took charge and after the minutes of the last reunion were read by Milton Vaupel the secretary, the nominating committee reported the following for the officers for the ensuing year: Glenn Ploutz, president; Wilbur Dysart, vice-president; Ed Kersten, treasurer, and Clarence H. Kersten, secretary.

In the slipper and shoe kicking contest Mrs. Carl Degner and Mrs. Harry Kersten of the women and William Griese and Ervin Wagner of the men seemed to have a slight edge on the rest of the crowd and accordingly were awarded prizes. A prize was also awarded to H. F. Kersten for being the shortest man present and to Mrs. Carl Degner for being the tallest woman.

Verlis Lindeman of Syracuse, N. Y., who came over eight hundred miles to attend was given a little auto as a remembrance.

A soft ball game in the late afternoon between the married and the single men was won by the single men by a large margin.

Besides those attending from Ashton and surrounding community many attended from the following cities: Syracuse, N. Y.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Dysart, Thompson and Garrison, Iowa, and from Chicago, Oregon, Rockford, Ames, Steward, Compton, Franklin Grove.

After a delightful day spent renewing old and sometimes nearly forgotten friendships and relationships those present voted it the "most successful and enjoyable day" and planned to return again next year.

For Fall Streetwear

Dresses from Betty Wales, New York

Among the new dresses now making appearance as street costumes is that shown at left of smooth black crepe trimmed with gold fasteners. Its collar and cuffs are of black and gold striped satin. With it is worn a small brimmed hat of black velvet, black bag and gloves of stitched kidskin. Another charming fall costume (right) comes in sheer brown wool with yoke and small epaulettes of taffeta. Note the corded felt beret that's worn low over the right eye.

Now School Is Painless—Almost

But Graduates of the Old Method Wonder Whether The Modern Youngsters Can Memorize Their Sums Well Enough Without Drills

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
"We never," said Miss Smith, "teach anything without first arousing the interest of the child. I shudder when I think of how I used to sit hour after hour doing tables. Tables, tables, tables. Upside down, backwards, forwards and mixed. Sums, we used to call them."

"Sums they were. We all hated them, didn't we?"
"Hate them? Why I can't look a number in the face. But of course you have had to. It's your business, isn't it—office manager of a big store. But I suppose you don't actually have to do the number work yourself. I mean," hastily, "the book-keeping."

"Not now so much. But of course I had to for years. And before that when I was in the bank I worked with figures all day. Couldn't risk a mistake, either. A mistake of two cents kept us all there overtime till we found the error. I've stayed as high as five hours overtime to run down a nickel. A cent an hour. That's the way it's done."

"Merely. It seems like slavery. All that for five cents. Ridiculous."

"Well, it's good discipline. The mistake could be in the thousand dollar column just as easily. And some one might stay ten years for that kind of a mistake."

"Anyway, we can't let the children smother their identities in tables and sums. Figures are so abstract. They don't express anything," explained Miss Smith.

The Store Method
"How do you go about it, ma'am?" asked old-fashioned Mr. Cooper.

"We make everything concrete. We keep store. Billy comes to the store six times and each time he buys an apple for five cents. Then he counts up the money in the box. Six-fives are thirty. He knows, too, that five sets under each other in a column six times are thirty, also. It teaches both multiplication and addition."

"I see. But will Billy have to close his eyes all his life and think of stores and apples and pennies when he's doing, say, a problem in cube root, or finding the greatest common divisor, say, of the nation's debt?"

"You wouldn't understand, of course," smiled Miss Smith compassionately. "The old point of view cannot grow new eyes. Our work is far too psychological to grasp with the old lack of vision."

"Mebbe," said Mr. Cooper, pulling thoughtfully on his pipe. "But ten years from now I hope ledgers will have nice little birds on the margins, and a motto at the top. 'If at first you don't succeed—'"

But Miss Smith was hunting the keys for her car. What the use of talking to an old fogey like that?

Huffman-Johnson Wedding on Tuesday

St. John's Lutheran church in Sterling was the scene of a very simple wedding Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Nina Huffman of Timberville, Va., became the bride of Lowell S. Johnson of Rock Falls. The single ring marriage ceremony was read by Rev. H. K. Hostetter in the presence of a few relatives and friends. The wedding march was played by Miss Lola Gettle and two violin sections, MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose," and Cadman's "At Dawning" were given by Lawrence Ryan, accompanied by Miss Gettle.

After the ceremony, the wedding party and guests were served a dinner at the Twin City country club. Following the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for a wedding trip to the east, where they will visit the bride's parents. They will return to Sterling about September 4, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Johnson is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Huffman of Timberville, Va. She is a graduate of Bridgewater college, Bridgewater, Va., and taught for three years in the weekday religious education of Sterling and Rock Falls. The past year she has been associated with the nursing department of Chicago Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Johnson of Rock Falls. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois and for the past eight months has been associated with the government agricultural adjustment program in Whiteside county. He is now employed as organization director of the Whiteside County Farm bureau.

No Costly Bleach Needed to De-Tan

Mention bleaching and reconditioning of summer-skin preparations, and some woman is sure to say, "But I don't want to put a lot of money into creams and lotions which I'll need for only a few weeks."

That's a reasonable enough argument. And the answer is that it's possible to get a complexion back into shape without spending money on anything except tissue cream. The kitchen shelf holds plenty of effective bleaches and softeners.

First of all, there's tomato juice. It bleaches and it tones. Simply pat it on after you have cleaned your face, let it dry and then rinse off.

The liquid from cucumber rinds that have been left over night in a small bowl of water is good, too. Apply with cotton pads.

Lemon juice, of course, is an efficacious bleach—but be sure to dilute it before you put it on face and neck. Use it full-strength on elbows and hands.

Don't forget about oatmeal. It's a fine, yet inexpensive, softener. Cook it just as you would for breakfast, strain off the liquid, let it cool and then pat it into your skin.

Always remember to use tissue cream after any kind of a bleach. Rinse and dry the skin before patting it on. If the summer sun has made your skin quite dry, leave a bit of the cream on all night.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyle and is a charming young lady with many friends. She attended St. Mary's parochial school from which she graduated.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Montavon and has been assisting his father with the farm work after completing his studies at St. Mary's parochial school. After the ceremony the young couple left for a few days honeymoon trip.

SMOCK TREND REMAINS IN VOGUE—

Tea smock silhouette, introduced in beach pajamas by Mainbocher in smart dress departments these days, there are some little suits, consisting of straight skirts and looseback jackets. The jackets are belted in front but allowed to swing free from a shoulder yoke at the back. Coats follow this trend, too, and they're sure to appeal to girls who like capes, swager coats and other costumes that are not form fitting.

Science Now Puts Its O. K. on Toast

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

The scientists have recently had toast up for trial in the laboratory. And they found out some interesting items.

We have known for some time that the heat of toasting acts on the starch in bread, changing it to sugar or "dextrinizing" it, and thereby shortening the time required for body digestion. But might the toasting heat be harmful to the protein content of the bread and so counteract the good effect on the starch. That's what the experts wanted to know.

Their tests have shown that the protein of toasted bread is as completely digested as the protein of untoasted bread, so the evidence is all in favor of toast.

Eliminates Potatoes
That's good news since toast is so useful to us housewives. Many important chefs in the great hotels and restaurants throughout the country serve lamb chops, broiled chicken, broiled kidneys, mushrooms, asparagus and any number of foods on toast.

Potatoes are unnecessary when toast figures in the menu. Rarebits and creamed foods on toast are inviting at luncheon time and broiled fillet of beef, lamb chops and Salisbury steaks on toast are excellent for dinner.

Creamed dried beef with hard cooked eggs on toast is easily prepared, inexpensive and nourishing luncheon dish. So are creamed oysters on toast.

Onion soup, tomato soup and celery soup all gain distinction if two or three squares of toast are sprinkled with grated cheese and served in each portion.

Since that time we have striven, and will continue to strive, for your good will and appreciation, and shall do everything we can to strengthen and deepen your allegiance to this store. Our aim is not just to get your dollars and cents, but to build a solid foundation for future business by observing a policy that will always merit your good will.

THE "PIE" EVIL IS BACK.

Just about the worst news that has come out of Washington in recent months is the disclosure that the federal "pie counter" is open again in old-time style. The old spoils system seems to have revived almost entirely, and the ancient game of using the federal government as an agency to provide jobs for deserving party hacks is being played as merrily as ever.

The New Deal seems to mean a good many different things, but one of the things that it ought most of all to mean is a break with sorry old custom of handing out plums to ward-healers.

The abuse of party patronage has been a crying evil in Washington for generations—ever since the day of Andrew Jackson, in fact. For a while, it looked as if the present administration were making a genuine effort to institute a reform in that field.

But Washington correspondents report that there has been a complete reversion to the old-fashioned spoils system this summer. To those of us who had hoped that a new standard of government service was being set up, the news is exceedingly discouraging.

PERIL IS OVERRATED.

That North Carolina clergyman who let a rattlesnake bite him and trusted in Providence to keep him from dying had a big percentage in his favor right from the start, according to Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars of the Bronx Zoo.

Dr. Ditmars, who knows about as much about poisonous snakes as anyone in America, says that only about 15 per cent of the people bitten by rattlesnakes die, even if they receive no medical attention whatever.

This fact was doubtless unknown to the clergyman, and does not detract in the least from the bravery with which he set out to test his faith. But it may help to account for the supposed efficacy of some of the time-honored "cures" for snake-bite—such, for instance, as the use of whisky.

If 85 per cent of the victims would recover anyway, it is hardly surprising that copious drafts of strong waters should occasionally be given credit for saving a life.

MR. PECORA ASSURES US.

A whole lot of ardent liberals were more or less disturbed when President Roosevelt put Joseph P. Kennedy on the federal stock market control agency, and when Mr. Kennedy was elected chairman of that body. For here was a Wall Street man given leadership of a group appointed to put a curb on Wall Street; and it is hardly surprising that some people didn't like the looks of it.

Now, however, Ferdinand Pecora, himself a member of the commission, expresses himself as follows:

"I like him (Mr. Kennedy) immensely and think his knowledge with his experience will be of incalculable assistance to the commission. I think the man is of sound judgment and he knows how to do things."

This recommendation should quiet the fears of the liberals. No living man is more honest and determined in the fight to regulate Wall Street than Mr. Pecora. If he is satisfied with Mr. Kennedy, the rest of us needn't worry much.

A REGRETTED RETIREMENT.

Everyone in America will be sorry to read that Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, after finishing singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" at the Wisconsin Tercentennial Celebration at Green Bay, quietly informed her audience that she had, with that song, closed her formal singing career.

To be sure, this beloved veteran of concert and grand opera stages is going to make an exception or two. She will sing for "her beloved boys" at the state convention of the American Legion of Wisconsin next month; and it's a safe bet that whenever any other Legion group asks her to sing, she will do it.

But, as she says, her formal singing career is over—and the news is pretty hard to take. Madame Schumann-Heink was not only blessed with a great voice; she is, in all, one of the finest characters ever to appear in public life in America.

Her retirement to private life leaves a void that will be a long time getting filled.

Uncle Sam has become incomparably the biggest money lender in all history, and the source of funds is confiscation.—Prof. Z. D. Ennis of Stevens Institute of Technology.

Five bucks is nothing during these times. I wouldn't take less than $500.—Chicago bandit, walking away in disgust from Sam Ginsburg, victim with $5.

Under the New Deal you pay taxes you did not authorize, for purposes you have not approved.—Representative Louis T. McFadden, Pennsylvania.

If women's hands were occupied, they would smoke fewer cigarettes and be less nervous and neurotic.—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of the president.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Hosea Preaches God's Love

Text: Hosea 11:1-4, 8-9; 14:1-9.
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Aug. 26BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Amos, we have seen, was a prophet with stern demands of righteousness. He met a society of sham prosperity, and sham culture, and a parade of sham religion, with the bitter invective of denunciation.

Hosea was no less righteous or insistent, but in his preaching to his age there was a note of tenderness and love. He saw the sinful as erring and wandering from the right way. He put himself in the place of the Almighty, choosing a people and loving them, and filled with pity and remorse when they rejected his choice and went astray.

In spite of all their sinfulness as a nation, there was still in God's attitude as expressed by the prophet, the luring note of love seeking to win them back to the right path, withholding vengeance and judgment and offering healing and restoration. It is a beautiful lesson that is before us, moving in its tenderness and in its vision.

Have the Amosites, or the Hoseas, accomplished the more in his history? We need them both. We need the stern moralists who denounce evil and corruption, who tear off the things that cover shams and who shake rotten things to their very foundation.

But we need, also, the tender and loving prophets who understand why men go astray, who see that even violence and corruption are perversions of right attitude and character, and who would stand at the crossroads of life appealing to men to avoid the wrong way and to travel the right road.

There is need, also, of luring those who have taken the wrong turning back into the right way.

Hosea was a man of deep vision. His question in the closing verse of our lesson is still one that challenges the world.

"Who is wise," he asks, "and he shall understand these things; prudent and he shall see them?"

Sin, after all, is foolishness and destruction. Neither individuals nor nations can go the way of selfishness and greed without destroying what they would uphold.

The advantages of selfishness and dishonesty are illusive. When we allow shiftiness and self-seeking to get hold upon life in business, in politics, or in other relationships, it does not require a deep or far-seeing prophet to see what is going to happen in national and social life.

What does call for vision and faith and courage in the prophet is to discover the means of turning the hearts of men from the temptation of selfishness and greed to ways of right and truth.

Our task is not only to uphold goodness, but to make goodness effective. Righteousness will not save a nation unless it is practiced and organized.

Technique is necessary, as well as good will and earnest purpose, in every effort to establish a nation in integrity and to build society into a commonwealth.

MRS. RAINEY TO BE OPPOSED IF SHE SEEKS POST

State Democratic Organization May Control Party Nomination

BULLETIN

Chicago, Aug. 23—(AP)—The death of Speaker Henry T. Rainey, the Republican State Central Committee charged, has created a rift between United States William H. Dieterich and Gov. Henry Horner. The committee charged in a statement yesterday that the senator is in favor of giving the widow the congressional nomination, with County Judge James Barnes of Morgan county as second choice, while Horner was reported to have favored the nomination of Scott Lucas of Beardstown, head of the State Tax Commission.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 23—(AP)—With funeral services for Speaker Henry T. Rainey over, Democratic leaders today were centering their thoughts on two subjects.

First was the question of a successor to Rainey in Congress.

Of equal importance, although not of such a pressing nature, is that of congressional reapportionment. The 20th district, the smallest in the state from the standpoint of population, has long been the bone of contention whenever the legislature sought redistricting. As a consequence nothing was accomplished.

Reapportionment, however, must wait until the legislature meets next January but a nominee for Rainey's congressional post must be selected in time to be placed on the November ballot.

Widow Suggested

Many names for the Democratic nomination have been presented. Chief among them is that of the Speaker's widow, Mrs. Ella McBride Rainey, who served as his secretary for many years. As yet she has given no indication of her intentions but it is understood that two influential Democrats, both residents of the district, are urging her selection. They are Newman L. Jones, Chief Justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, and Senator William H. Dieterich. Both were close personal and political associates of the late speaker.

The nomination, however, will be made by the chairman of the Democratic county committees in the district. This places a different aspect on the situation.

Horner May Control

Most of the county chairmen in the district are state employees. This being so, it is likely that the state administration can dictate the nomination if it cares to do so.

Two of the state administration's followers are said to be anxious for the nomination. One of them is Scott Lucas, chairman of the State Tax Commission. He was an unsuccessful candidate in the 1932 primary for the nomination for United States Senator being defeated by Dieterich. The other is County Judge James Barnes of Jacksonville.

Barnes has geographical considerations on his side. He comes from Morgan county, the largest in the district, and it is also the home county of Warren Wright, the Republican nominee.

The state organization will probably make a decision very soon between Barnes and Lucas and then seek to win the nomination for its choice.

While many expect Mrs. Rainey to seek the nomination there are some, and among them are several of the late speaker's close friends, who do not think she will care for the job.

CONSOLIDATION CHICAGO PARKS IS HELD VALID

Supreme Court Holds Law Providing Action Is Legal

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 23—The Illinois supreme court approved the consolidation of Chicago park districts in an opinion filed today.

The vacation opinion, written by Justice Warren E. Orr, of Rock Island and approved by three others, upheld the constitutionality of the 1933 law providing for the consolidation and the regularity of the Chicago referendum in April.

The consolidation was upheld by the Cook county circuit court in quo warranto proceedings brought against the commissioners named by Mayor Kelly of Chicago to govern the combined parks.

In upholding the act, sponsored by the Horner administration as a means of reducing the costs of the over-lapping park governments the opinion said:

"The existence of the 22 park districts came to an end when the new and greater district was brought into being by a vote of the people."

It held the legislature has power to abolish municipal corporations with or without the consent of the people in the locality.

New Deal Back of Record Breaking Passage of Laws

Chicago, Aug. 23—(AP)—A report of the committee on administrative law of the American Bar Association to be submitted to the association's annual convention in Milwaukee next week, will say that more legislation has been passed under the new deal in a single year than had been enacted since the American Revolution.

Commenting on this, Walter H. Eckert, chairman of the association's publicity committee, said that the NRA alone had in a year issued 10,000 or more pages of regulations which supposedly have the effect of federal law.

HONEST PROFIT NOT OPPOSED BY ADMINISTRATION

Sec. Roper Seeks to Reassure Business in Radio Address

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Secretary Roper, declaring that business definitely is on the upgrade, has informed the nation that the Roosevelt administration stands for "just profits."

His statement that the government believes in the private profit motive was regarded as an answer to critics and reassurance to business men.

Speaking in the Washington Star radio forum last night, the commerce department head said:

"Private enterprise is getting back upon its own feet, and more and more is exerting its initiative and is able to relieve the Federal government of responsibilities which under normal conditions belong to business."

"The Roosevelt administration is squarely behind this principle. It believes in just profits for management and capital and an equitable return to labor for its rightful rewards in the economic processes."

ANSWER TO PRAYER?

New York, Aug. 23—(AP)—The assertion of an administration spokesman that it is "squarely behind" the profit motive as the mainspring of business was construed in Wall Street today as an answer to the harassed executives' prayer.

Some business and financial quarters had worked themselves into a rather bad state of jitters over rising costs of materials and labor, the prospect of increased taxes, and the continued urging of lower prices to the consumer.

That the recovery program contemplated abandonment of the profit motive and its replacement by the motive of pure service, as contemplated in a state of complete socialism, was probably not seriously considered in many quarters. Nevertheless, business initiative does spring chiefly from the prospect of making a profit, and a feeling among executives that the likelihood of profit is all but ruled out, acts as a decided brake.

Three are Held in Belleville: Charge Kidnaping, Theft

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 23—(AP)—Three men are held here on charges of kidnaping and theft of an automobile, following the abduction of Miss Katherine Andel of Belleville and her escort, Nelson Allen, Hannibal, Mo., last Friday night.

Charles Childers and John Euler of Murphysboro, Ill., and Charles Clendenin of East St. Louis are the men held. A fourth man, Leroy Carter, who with Clendenin was shot by deputy sheriffs for resisting arrest Tuesday, is in serious condition. William Carter, Charles Clendenin and John Euler are held at an East St. Louis hospital.

Companions of Carter and Clendenin of Murphysboro and Dewey Wetherington of Metropolis, Ill., were arrested.

Miss Andel and Allen were held for nearly eight hours after their abduction, taken by their captors to Murphysboro, but later released in Belleville. Miss Andel identified Childers, Euler and Clendenin.

Then it was revealed that Herman had paid him $500 in the presence of a notary public. Mrs. Rost says the $500 was the price for her release.

'SCARFACE' AL MUST LABOR 48 HOURS IN WEEK

That's Capone's Routine in Alcatraz Island U. S. Prison

San Francisco Aug. 23—(AP)—Prison labor—48 hours a week of it—was in store today for Al "Scarface" Capone and 52 other convicts transferred yesterday from other prisons to the new escape-proof federal penitentiary on Alcatraz island.

An eight-hour work period for each day except Sunday has been mapped out for the new arrivals, including the former Chicago gang chief, Warden James A. Jones said.

The convicts who arrived increased the prison population to an even 100, and they will labor in the prison laundry, the clothing shop, shoe shop, kitchens and at maintenance occupations.

Can See Trisico

In their leisure and recreational hours, they may study the San Francisco skyline, so close that details are clearly visible when not obscured by fog; watch ocean liners and freighters pass in and out of the Golden Gate or keep track of the progress of the two great bridge projects stretching out across the surging water.

The transfer of Capone to the new prison, which Attorney General Homer S. Cummings said was for convicts who attempted to maintain outside contacts at other penitentiaries and were potential jail breakers, brought a protest from his attorney at Atlanta, Frank A. Doughman.

Capone himself protested when he was shaken from a sound sleep at Atlanta and hustled aboard the Alcatraz-bound train against such treatment for "a model prisoner," Doughman declared.

BROTHER IS FREED

Chicago Aug. 24—(AP)—The police struck quickly to put down what they said they suspected was an attempt of the old Capone gang to stage a comeback in Cook county.

They arrested Ralph Capone, brother of "Scarface" Al Capone and nine other men yesterday in a raid on a flat above a tavern in suburban Berwyn.

The raid was made by officers from the state's attorney's office, after the receipt of complaints that Capone had reorganized the scattered remnants of his brother's old gang in an attempt to force saloon keepers in the western part of Cook county to buy a certain brand of beer.

Nine Released

Nine of the men, however, were released, including Capone, who insisted that he was "going straight" and just dropped into the place for a glass of beer.

Among the men seized with Capone was Edward G. Konvalinka, a Republican committeeman and candidate for state senator. He denied any "mugsy" work and was released.

The man held for further questioning was James Novak, who had been sought as a suspect in

HEMSLEY BACK AT OLD TRICKS: LANDS IN JAIL

Took Poke at Copper; Got Sock on Nose as a Result

Philadelphia, Aug. 23—(AP)—Ralston (Rolling) Rollie Hemsley, St. Louis Browns' first string catcher known for socking fast ones on the nose, got socked with a fast one himself early today.

No umpires were around, Police-man Frank Doyle explained, and Judge Landis was nowhere, to be seen when "Rollie" got rough outside a taproom.

The American Leaguer was in no shape to be driving the automobile he had hired, Doyle decided, and when Hemsley began emphasizing his protests with swinging fists, the policeman delivered a sizzler to the back of his head.

Manager Rogers Hornsby, here with his team for a series against the A's, got his star catcher out of jail with the promise that he'd have him back for a hearing today on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct. The charges were dismissed at a magistrate's hearing this morning.

CREDIT UNIONS FOR FARMER IS LATEST WRINKLE

Farmers to Buy Shares in Union and Then
Borrow From It

Washington, Aug. 23 —(AP)—
The farm credit administration started promoting the idea of credit unions today to help the little fellow who needs cash.

Under the Federal credit union act, it will oversee the organization of such unions throughout the country. Governor William I.
Myers announced the appointment of Claude R. Orchard of Omaha as assistant director of the credit union section to assist Herbert Emmerich, acting director.

Credit unions, Myers explained, are cooperative thrift and lending institutions organized by seven or more persons. Their chief aims are to encourage thrift and lend money to their members only for provident or productive purposes.

"The law was enacted to permit people of small means to borrow money from their fellow-workers, associates, or neighbors, through credit unions formed for the purpose, and to encourage them to save," Myers said.

At Lower Interest
"One objective of course, is to provide sources of credit at lower interest rates than have been generally available."

He said it was not the purpose to set up new banking institutions operating for profit. "Federal credit unions may lend only to their members, who have purchased shares of capital stock of the credit union from which they have applied for a loan."

"All profits after provision has been made for losses and reserves are paid to the member-stockholders, whose number include, of course, the borrowers."

Under the law loans of $50 may be made on the security of the borrower's note alone, while loans over that must be secured with collateral. No one may borrow more than $200 or 10 per cent of the union's paid-in and unimpaired capital, whichever is greater.

Shares $5
Members provide capital stock by purchasing shares at $5 each, which is loaned to member-borrowers as a normal banking operation.

Application forms for union charters will be ready at district offices of the farm credit administration shortly after September 1, Myers said. District offices are at Springfield, Mass., Baltimore, Columbia, South Carolina; Louisville, Kentucky; New Orleans, St. Louis,
St. Paul, Omaha, Wichita, Kansas; Houston, Texas; Berkeley, California and Spokane.

AMERICAN LOOP PITCHERS TURN IN GOOD GAMES

Gomez and Wes Ferrell
Starred in Games of Yesterday

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Although the American League is known as a "hitters' league," the pitchers seem to be deciding a lot of important things, too.

Today the fans had before them such notable examples as the Yankee southpaw, Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, with the 21st victory of the year, won with a two hit shutout.

Wes Ferrell of Boston with his 12th triumph in 14 trials and a couple of others who did first-class jobs of flinging yesterday.

Gomez, leading hurler of the junior loop, brought the Yanks to a 3 to 0 victory over Cleveland in the first half of a double-header and enabled them to gain an even break for the day. The victory put him on even terms with Dizzy Dean, National League leader, in total games won.

The second contest was a different story as the Indians smashed three of New York's "second division" pitchers, Jimmy Deshong, Johnny Murphy and Johnny Broaca, for 14 hits, including three homers, and won 10 to 4.

Gained Half a Game
The split was enough to give the Yanks half a game gain on the Tigers in the pennant race as Earl Whitehall led the Senators to a 7 to 5 victory over Detroit.

Ferrell, whose hitting ability is second only to his pitching, not only limited the White Sox to seven hits but produced a 3 to 2 teaming victory with his bat.

He clouted two home runs, one in the eighth to tie the score and another in the tenth to win.

Bill Dietrich of the Athletics turned in another of the day's fine flinging performances when he shut out the Browns with eight hits to win 2 to 0. Bruce Campbell made half the Brownie hits.

The National League schedule was a blank for the day, paving the way for a grand opening today of a "crucial" test for the league leading Giants. The New Yorkers open a three-game series today against the third-place Cardinals and the Dean brothers, who have beaten them eight times running, then go on for four games against Chicago's second place Cubs.

GOLF

By Art Krenz

Here are six fundamentals we all should follow:

At the start of the backswing be sure not to lift the club with the right hand.

Be sure the hips and shoulders turn enough in the backswing.

Keep the left arm straight, and don't hug the body too close with the right.

Cock the left wrist at the top of the swing, making sure the grip is firm.

Hit through with the left arm, and don't uncock the wrists until the hitting region is reached.

Don't be afraid to hit the ball.

Stars Yesterday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wes Ferrell, Red Sox—His two homers and pitching led Boston in 3 to 2 defeat of White Sox.

Bob Johnson, Athletics—Drove in both runs in 2-0 victory over Browns.

Vernon Gomez, Yankees, and Hal Trosky, Indians—Gomez shut out Indians with two hits in first game, and Trosky made four hits in five times at bat in second.

Earl Whitehall, Senators—Hurled and batted his way to triumph over Tigers.

MUZZLED

The raucous howls of "Oh, Boy," emitted by Patsy O'Toole, shown above in frenzied action, have been stilled and Detroit baseball fans slowly are regaining their hearing. Patsy, whose howlings at the last world series in Washington, brought a request from President Roosevelt that he be moved far, far away, has been ordered by the Detroit American League management to do his roaring in whispers or stay away from Navin Field.

TROTTERS' SIREN

The parade to the post of the trotters at Goshen, N. Y., is a very orderly procession. The reason is that Agnes Gahagan, titian-haired miss, leads the parade with "Singin' Sam," a platinum blond horse, as her mount. The girl and her steed are shown above.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 23 —(AP)—

The Yankee of Boston, high liner of the current America's Cup defensive fleet, met Rainbow, Harold

S. Vanderbilt's candidate, for the first time today in the final official trials for defense nomination.

Rainbow defeated Frederick T.

Prince's Westamoe yesterday in the first race of the series, and Yankee had a day of inactivity in which to prepare for the final test.

Today Westamoe can remain at her mooring and tomorrow Rainbow will have a respite.

Yankee, sailed by Charles Francis

Adams, former Navy secretary, has defeated Rainbow eight times by the most conservative figuring and thirteen times by the most liberal interpretation of the results of the preliminary races. Rainbow has scored two clean cut victories over the Boston boat and four by giving her the advantage of a protest and an overtime contest, which was not entered on the record.

The trials are being enlivened by the presence of the British challenger, Tom Sopwith's Endeavour. Yesterday he took her over a good portion of the course and the invader behaved so well that she has won the wholesome respect of all observers. On the windward leg of the thirty-mile windward-leeward course, Endeavour gave evidence of being able to hold

Rainbow and Westamoe on even or better terms.

VIGOR OF YOUTH YIELDS TO GAME OF EXPERIENCE

Mako and Budge Beaten
by Mangin and Bell
Yesterday

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 —(AP)—The vigor of youth has again fallen prey to the wiles of experience, and the two sensational west coast "kids" who rubbed Fred Perry and F. H. D. Wilde from the national doubles tennis lists have bitten the dust themselves.

After marching two thirds of the way to a quarter-finals triumph, blond Gene Mako and carrot topped Don Budge succumbed to a three-set rally yesterday and bowed to Berkeley Bell and Gregory Mangin at the Germantown Cricket Club 4-6, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

With the victory Bell and Mangin claimed the right to meet George Lott and Lester Stoeffel, title-holding Davis Cup stars, in the semi-finals today.

Still as undisturbed by opposition as they've been since the tourney opened, the champions waded through two Philadelphians, Dr. Carl Fischer, former intercollegiate champion, and William Lingebach, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Van Ryn and Allison

Half of the second semi-final bracket will hold Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, 1931 national champs who yesterday disposed of the eighth-ranking team, Henry

Prusoff of Seattle and Wilmer T.

Hines of Columbia, S. C. The score: 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Who the Allison-Van Ryn combine meets in the semi-finals is yet to be decided. The assignment will go to either Frank Shields and Sidney Wood or the Czechoslovakian, Roderick Menzel, and his

South African partner, Vernon G.

Krby.

As darkness fell last night, that quarter embroiled in a quarter final tussle that must be decided today, Shields and Wood took the first set, 6-3, and lost the second,

13-11.

The deciding match will be played this afternoon, and the winners will meet Allison and Van Ryn tomorrow.

NEW RULING ON PIG DISPOSALS RECEIVED HERE

Corn-Hog Contractors are Advised of Excess Pig Disposal

The following ruling on "Disposal of Pigs in Excess of the Number Permitted under the Contract" was received by J. M. Keay, Sec. Treas. Lee County Corn-Hog Control Association within the past week:

Advices from the field indicate that a majority of contract signers have not attempted to produce so close to the line, and are in danger of exceeding the contract limitations regarding number of hogs produced for market. Some producers who have unwisely attempted to "crowd the mark" are in danger of being disqualified for the reduction payments unless early steps are taken to insure compliance with the hog reduction tracts. Contract signers should not put too great faith in future death losses as means of coming within the contract provisions. The various alternatives now available to those who have too many pigs are as follows, always subject to instructions or directions by the Secretary as provided in the contract:

(1) If the number of hogs already farrowed is greatly in excess of the number permitted under the contract, the producer probably will be better off to have his contract cancelled before it is sent to Washington. For example, one contract signer was several hundred hogs over and no death loss reasonably to be expected would leave him with a number of hogs even approaching the limit set in the contract. This man was advised to have his contract withdrawn before the contracts from his county were sent in.

(2) Those with relatively few excess hogs may prefer to pay the penalty of $20.00 per head specified in the contract. Since the producer in effect is paid $15.00 per head for each hog he is supposed to eliminate from production, and since he probably will receive about $10.00 for the live hog when ready for market, the $20.00 penalty is really less than the number of excess hogs is greater than 25 per cent of the hog base, payment of the penalty would place the contract signer in much the same position that he would be if he had originally agreed to reduce hog production by less than 25 per cent.

(3) Arrangements are now being made whereby the excess hogs may be used for relief purposes. In formulating plans for disposal of excess hogs for relief, the following principles probably will be followed:

(a) The producer will receive no payment for such excess hogs.

(b) They will be handled and distributed through the regularly established federal and state relief agencies. It would be distinctly unfair to producers who have lived up to the terms of their contract, and would tend to defeat the real purpose of the corn-hog program, to allow excess hogs to be donated to local churches or any other types of local organizations where the distribution of the pork would be subject to ready checking by the regularly constituted Federal relief agencies. Such donated hogs must be counted as hogs produced for market under the terms of the contract.

(c) Such hogs will have to be delivered by the producer to shipping or processing points to be designated by the Secretary and at weights which will make it possible to process them economically.

(d) The product will be distributed in such a way that it will have the least possible effect on the demand for pork from commercial channels.

(e) Contract signers who do not wish to take advantage of any of the above alternatives may wish to dispose of the excess hogs on the farm while they are young, by destroying pigs of inferior quality. Such disposal is entirely at the discretion of the producer, but it should be understood that the Corn-Hog Section is not advocating such action.

Miss Sands Holds Open House Daily

Paradoxically, Miss Annie Sands of London, England, has a housekeeper, but no house. She was evicted from the large home in which she lived for years. So she and Sims (at right), have set up housekeeping on a park bench, sleeping in doorways when it rains. Miss Sands has sufficient income to provide her housekeeper and herself with food.

Living Our Everyday Lives

DO YOUR BEST

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

How can we span the gulf between failure and success. With a bridge of sighs or a bridge of tries? Take my tip and use the latter, and you will be happier.

If we choose the bridge of sighs we are sure to be disappointed, as well as defeated. Even the bridge of tries is no guarantee of a certain crossing, but then the result is not important—so long as we have tried.

Stevenson said that he "tried a little and failed much," but when we read his life we cannot agree that he failed at all. Against heavy odds of illness he worked faithfully and gallantly, even joyously, and won gloriously.

Even if he had "failed much," as he feared he had, his life would have been a success. To have tried is really what counts most in life. It is not the achievement, not the prize we win, however glittering it may be, but the spirit and the heart behind the effort that matters most.

In every walk of life—in school, and in after life—we always find the genius who rockets to success seemingly without effort. Of course we admire his brilliance, but the steady plodder who keeps on trying, though none of the prizes ever come his way, is more deserving of our honor.

After all, if we are born with the sort of brain that wins prizes, or the sort of legs that win races, it is easy enough to finish first. But it needs grit, courage, patience, and grim determination to go on striving when you know that you will probably never be in the first three.

There is such a thing as succeeding without being successful. Think that over and you will see why it is not the result that counts, but the endeavor. It is not what we do but what we become in the doing, that is important.

All of us cannot expect to win the prizes of life. It is not possible. There are not enough prizes to go around. There is not room enough at the top. But all of us can put our whole hearts and souls into the struggle. We can try instead of sigh, and win from life its zest and joy.

It does not matter if we fail in the eyes of the world. So long as we try to do our best we shall never fail in the eyes of God, and that is the real prize worth winning.

In everything—in our work, our play, our prayers—let us do our best; that is good enough for God.

Crown Point Clerk Willing to Issue License to Violet

Crown Point, Ind. Aug. 23—(AP)—If Violet Hilton, who plays right half of the Siamese twins, isn't fooling about her desire to get married, here's a second notice that County Clerk George Sweigart in this wedding resort is willing to issue a license to Violet and Maurice Lambert.

He sent her one invitation after a license was refused in New York, and repeated the offer yesterday after hearing Chicago would not grant a license. But Violet has not been seen in the vicinity of Crown Point—and neither has her sister.

Urge Mrs. Rainey for Congress

Mrs. Ella Rainey, widow of the late speaker of the House of Representatives, is being urged by influential Illinois Democrats for the nomination as Henry T. Rainey's successor in Congress. She is thoroughly familiar with Congressional work, having been her husband's secretary for many years.

HIGH OFFICIALS OF NRA REPORT- ED IN DISPUTE

Miss Perkins and Donald Richberg Fight General Johnson

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—As President Roosevelt headed back toward the capital today, published reports said the high command of his industrial recovery campaign had split in a sharp dispute over reorganization of the NRA.

Donald R. Richberg and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins were said to be at odds against Hugh S. Johnson on what some termed the issue of "one man control" of the Blue Eagle.

The Washington Post said a showdown had been asked from the President. Richberg, chief coordinator of the recovery drive, said he had no idea where reports of the split originated. Whatever the argument was, he said, it certainly was not personal. He indicated it might not be so serious as represented.

Control Is Issue
The issue is said to be vitally intertwined with the future set-up of NRA, which the president and his aides are now drafting. As the Post defines the dispute, it revolves around the question whether a powerful board shall rule NRA, with the administration under it, or whether the administrator shall have the real control, with the board acting more in an advisory capacity.

Johnson's opponents in the disagreement are said to feel that he wants the latter alternative, although it was he who recommended that NRA be managed by a board instead of by one man.

Charges Expected
If the powerful board idea wins, it is said, important changes can be expected. The Post said they probably would be in the direction of curtailing price fixing, lightening the pressure of the brakes on industrial competition and enforcing more rigorously the collective bargaining provision of the act.

The question of how long General Johnson is to remain with NRA might conceivably depend on the outcome of the dispute. The indications have been that the White House would like him to carry out the reorganization of the NRA.

F. D. R. MUST DECIDE
Enroute with President Roosevelt to Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—President Roosevelt hurried back to the White House today as fresh reports sprang up of a sharp controversy over the reorganization of NRA.

The chief executive, who paid his last respects to the late Speaker Henry T. Rainey yesterday, changed his original plans to go directly to his summer home at Hyde Park, N. Y., and returned to Washington instead in order to attend to some urgent matters. The recovery program was one of the items slated for presidential attention.

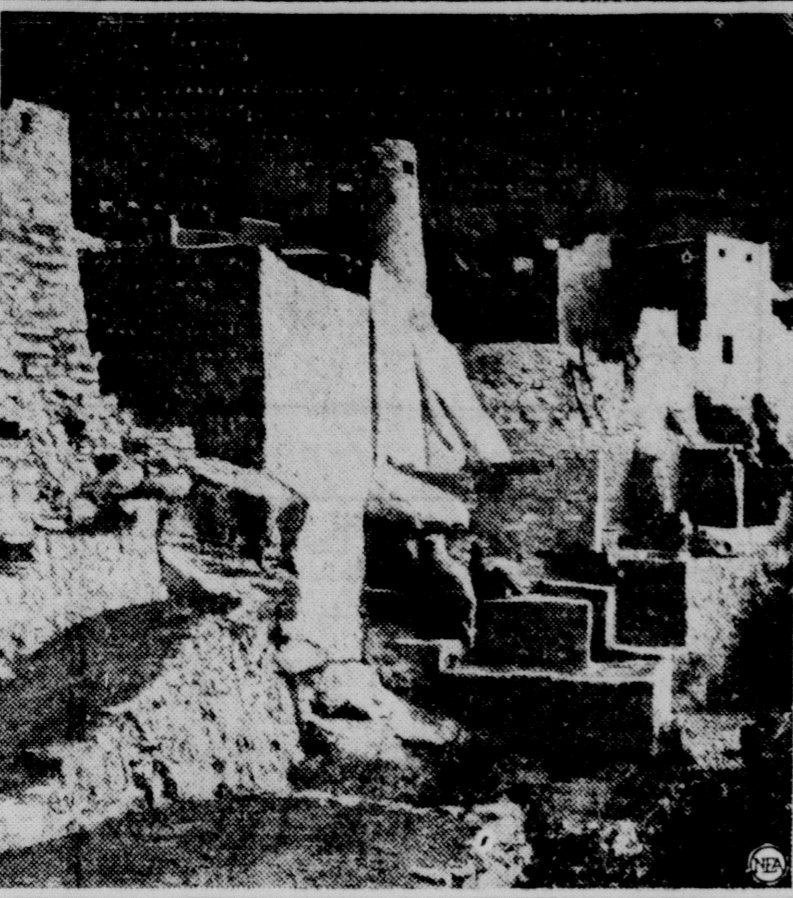

In Washington, Donald R. Richberg, Roosevelt's chief industrial advisor, declined to discuss reports that he and Hugh S. Johnson, Blue Eagle chief, were in a bitter dispute over a new NRA structure. On his return to the White House the president is expected to take command of the situation and outline definitely principles for recovery organization.

Studies Drought
The drought was another matter with which the president had to wrestle. With another view of the drought's devastating effects in the otherwise rich midwest, Roosevelt called Secretary Wallace aboard to fortify administration efforts to meet the calamity. With Wallace in the presidential private car were Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary; Miss Grace Tulley, private secretary, and the president's aides, Col. Edwin A. Watson and Commander H. F. Kingman.

A number of the congressional delegation which attended the services for Mr. Rainey boarded the president's train at Carrollton, Ill., and rode east with him.

They included two Republicans of the Ways and Means committee on which Rainey served for years, Reps. Bacharach of New Jersey

Mesa Verde Park's Cliff Palace To Be Pictured on New Stamp

Hundreds of feet above the canyon bottom, under the roof of an enormous cave that arches 50 to 100 feet over it, famous Cliff Palace is one of the spectacular sights of Mesa Verde National Park, in the southwestern corner of Colorado, to be pictured on one of the new U. S. stamp issues. This photo shows a section of the palace. The floor of the recess in which the palace stands is practically covered with buildings reared by primitive man, who lived in these aeries secure against enemies.

Illinois Crop Report for Past Week Issued Today

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 23—(AP)—Drought conditions on Illinois farms were alleviated somewhat by general rains last Thursday, the weather bureau announced today in its weekly report.

Late plantings of corn are improved, especially in the lowlands, said the bulletin issued by E. W. Holcomb, but the crop's condition is still variable with the early fields in the denting stage.

"There is considerable good corn in the northwest and southeast, but in the remainder of the state it is fair to 'fit for fodder,' the report said.

"Chinch bugs have damaged the crop seriously in many places, though their activities are now retarded in the heavier rain areas. Ear worms are also active in places. There is considerable corn that was in a critical tassel stage during the heat wave that poorly pollinated, and as a result ears are not well filled.

Some Plowing Done
"Considerable plowing has been done, although the ground is too dry for good plowing in the drier areas. Meadows and pastures have generally improved since the rains, though pastures are still short in growth. A third cutting of alfalfa continues and in a few favored areas a fourth cutting is beginning. Soy beans and other legumes continue to make good growth; however, there are some complaints that soy beans are no good well.

"Water is still scarce in the drier areas. Reports indicate that generally there is no feed shortage. Cotton in Alexander county is in splendid condition."

and Treadway of Massachusetts, two Democrats, Reps. O'Connor of New York and Mrs. Norton of New Jersey.

To Keep Hands Off
O'Connor has been mentioned as a successor to Rainey. It was stated last night by McIntyre that Roosevelt has not taken any part in this race.

Again, as on his cross country tour, Roosevelt was met by large crowds yesterday and last night. So tremendous was the throng at Carrollton that he was delayed several minutes in reaching his train.

"Today, as yesterday, he remained in his car."

DEMOCRATS AT STATE FAIR TO HEAR GOVERNOR

Horner Center of Activities at Governor's Day Fete

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 23—(AP)—Governor's Day at the state fair, traditional opening date for political campaigns, today brought thousands of Democrats to Springfield to hear Henry Horner praise his state administration.

With Democratic campaign speeches were tributes to Speaker Henry T. Rainey from the mourners who attended his funeral at Carrollton yesterday.

Horner was the center of attraction, delivering the major address in supporting his policies and asking the election of the Democratic ticket in November.

Aside from Rainey, whose unexpected death removed him from the list of party dignitaries scheduled to appear, several other prominent Democrats were absent. Some Are Absent.

But those sharing the spotlight with the governor included Senator Dietrich, scheduled for a short address; State Chairman Bruce Campbell, who presided; the Democratic state officials and the November candidates.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, who did not attend the Rainey funeral, was not expected for Governor's Day. National Committee member Patrick A. Nash of Chicago is ill. There was a possibility that Mayor Kelly of Chicago, also reported ill, would be able to take his place as one of the speakers. State's Attorney Thomas Courtney of Cook county is understood to be in Washington.

Special trains came from Chicago and Democratic leaders claimed every downtown county seat delegates as party workers strove to outdo in numbers and enthusiasm the Republican state convention two weeks ago.

INJECTION TREATMENT OF VARICOSE VEINS
Varicose veins may be treated either by surgical removal or by injections making use of appropriate substances.

In surgical removal the enlarged and twisted vein is first tied off at both ends and by means of a specially constructed instrument the vein is "tunneled" free underneath the skin and removed in small sections. The smaller, wandering branches of the varicose vein may require careful dissecting out with scalpel.

In the injection treatment, which may be administered either at the doctor's office or in the hospital, the skin over the area to be injected is first carefully sterilized. The solution used is then injected into the vein through a small hypodermic needle. After the injection the patient rests five or ten minutes, a compression bandage is usually applied over the vein and the patient is then permitted to return home or to work. The treatment is usually repeated, five to ten injections being ordinarily sufficient to obliterate all of the dilated

Doctor May Experiment on Own Sons to Prove Faith in Vaccine Against Childhood Scourge

"I would not hesitate to use the vaccine on my sons," Dr. John A. Kolmer, professor of medicine at Temple University in Philadelphia, asserted in announcing that he had discovered a preventative vaccine for infantile paralysis. If further laboratory tests of the new discovery verify his claims, Dr. Kolmer may inject the devitalized virus of the disease into the system of his boys, John Jr., 15, and Daniel, 11, with whom he is pictured above.

The injection method for the treatment of varicose veins is by and large safe and satisfactory.

It must, however, be understood that not all varicose veins are alike subject to treatment, nor does each case promise permanent and satisfactory results.

Before undertaking either type of treatment for varicose veins, it is important that the patient should have a thorough physical examination. Should the patient be found to be suffering from hardening of the arteries, diabetes or any other systematic disease, it may be unwise to subject him to any form of treatment other than a palliative one.

It is also necessary to determine by several tests whether the varicose involve only the superficial veins or the deep ones as well, and whether the deeper channels of the venous system are open.

Robber-Slayer of Mail Truck Driver to Die October 22

Richmond, Va., Aug. 23—(AP)—Walter Legenza, charged with being one of five men who shot and killed a federal reserve bank mail truck driver during a robbery, was found guilty yesterday at a trial which lasted 13 hours. He was sentenced to die in the electric chair, October 22.

Legenza was tried for the murder of E. M. Huband, the truck driver, who was shot to death on the night of March 8. His conviction removed the third of five men who the government says, took part in the robbery and shooting. Legenza was identified by one witness as the "trigger man" in the holdup.

Two other members of the gang, George Phillips and George Kaufman, have been killed in fights with policemen.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feed the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 2% of our food decays in our 25 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped animal, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, cripples and voids the rectum in many people. ## 'NON-PARTISAN' LEAGUE TO MAKE NEW DEAL STUDY

Shouse, Former Chairman of Dem. Nat'l Committee is Head

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The American Liberty League began laying foundations today for a campaign across the continent to recruit 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 property owners to judge the new deal.

Acknowledged non-partisan and "not anti-Roosevelt," it set out to command all possible influence in the coming debate over whether the administration is "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

At the head stand leaders in both major parties popularly identified as "conservatives," Alfred E. Smith and John W. Davis, Democrats, who lost the presidency to Hoover and Coolidge. James W. Wadsworth and Nathan L. Miller, Republican strong-men in New York.

Already there are rumblings of "liberal" arraignment of the move that J. Edgar Hoover announced last night as one to combat "radicalism." It was he who described the league as "not anti-Roosevelt" but rather intended to serve as a forum and a force before congress for those who want to guard their personal and property rights.

For "All Our People" A week ago he told President Roosevelt about it. In words like these: "The league will become a real factor in assisting toward recovery and the restoration of prosperous conditions for all our people."

That the president hardly would take exception to the announced goal is accepted. It also is certain he is aware of the political potentialities.

The league's purposes are twofold under the heading: "To defend and protect the Constitution of the United States." Data will be disseminated to teach:

1—"The necessity of respect for the rights of persons and property as fundamental to every successful form of government."

2—"The duty of government to encourage and protect individual and group initiative and enterprise, to foster the right to work, earn, save, and acquire prosperity; and to preserve the ownership and lawful use of property when acquired."

Shouse who is to be elected president when the executive committee has been raised to about 18, disclosed that seven divisions will be set up for a membership drive in every state. The only other man known to be a member besides Shouse, Smith, Davis, Wadsworth and Miller is Irene DuPont, a political independent who supported Smith and Roosevelt.

The divisions will comprise home owners, farmers, labor, savings depositors, life insurance holders, bondholders and stockholders. Members will be in two classes, those who believe in the principles but cannot afford financial support; and those who will say it with their pocketbooks.

To curb radicalism Answering reporters questions, Shouse said a prime aim is to curb tendencies toward extreme radicalism existing in sections which he would not name.

As to the new deal, he expects some to be approved and others disapproved.

The Shouse said will not participate in the present congressional campaigns. Broadly speaking, it will operate in the manner of the American Legion, Anti-Saloon League and similar organizations which support or oppose specific policies rather than parties as such. Researches will be made, conclusions publicized.

Roll calls will be kept. And unless the overnight signs were wrong, the liberty league will take a fighting position for its beliefs in elections to come.

The presence of such names as Smith and Davis on the executive committee cannot be overlooked by Senate Democrats in congress as Senators Glass and Byrd of Virginia; Gore of Oklahoma; Bailey of North Carolina; and others who have opposed various integral portions of the Roosevelt program.

Nor is it likely that men listed as Republicans who share the convictions of Norris of Nebraska, Johnson of California, LaFollette of Wisconsin, and Cutting of New Mexico, will fail to look askance upon any movement fostered by the former Senator and now Representative Wadsworth.

Concern Over Plans of Administration Retarding Industry New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—No signs of an upturn in the iron and steel business have appeared, said Iron Age today in its weekly review, and the national average of ingot production has dropped to 21 per cent of capacity.

This is the lowest rate of the year, reached only once before, in the first week of July, and compares with a 22 per cent average last week.

Widespread concern over Federal policies, asserted the review, "particularly as they relate to money and labor undoubtedly has played a large part in holding back industrial enterprise, with the result that consumer stocks of material accumulated in June are lasting longer than had been expected."

CARROLLTON IS NORMAL AGAIN AFTER FUNERAL

Floral-studded Mound Bespeaks Sorrow in Rainey's Death

Carrollton, Ill., Aug. 23 (AP)—Normally returned to Carrollton today but a floral-studded mound bespoke its sorrow over the passing of its first citizen—the late Henry T. Rainey, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Nearly 20,000 persons, including President Roosevelt—the first president ever to visit Carrollton—gathered yesterday for simple last rites for Mr. Rainey. Visitors crowded the streets and filled the grounds of "Walnut Hall" the Rainey estate.

The funeral services were held inside the Rainey home, a rambling, brick mansion built before the Civil War. About 10,000 people were assembled on the lawn. Inside the president sat with close friends and relatives of the late speaker and with members of the congressional funeral delegation.

The body of the late speaker was placed beside that of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Rainey, in soil which his grandparents helped to claim from the wilderness.

On entering the parlor of "Walnut Hall," the president stood a moment before the still open casket, looking on the face of the dead house leader, his co-worker in the "new deal" legislation.

Casket is Closed Then attendants closed the casket, the president and his group seated themselves, and reading of the Psalms was begun by Bishop John Chanler White of the Episcopal diocese of Springfield.

Bishop White stood in an adjoining room, and his reading of the old and new passages of life, death and immortality, and of prayers for the dead and for the living, was heard by those within and outside the house.

The recital constituted the funeral service. There was no eulogy or personal words.

After pronouncing benediction, Bishop White entered the parlor and sat by the casket while the presidential group observed a moment of silence. Then an elderly woman approached the president. She was Mrs. Frank P. Williams, sister of Speaker Rainey. His brother, W. C. Rainey of Centralia, Mo., followed.

Judge Jones Called State officials and visiting congressmen next entered and paid their respects to the president. Chief Justice Norman L. Jones of the Illinois supreme court, once Rainey's law partner, was called from the yard at the president's request.

Then Marvin H. McIntyre, the president's secretary, announced that Mrs. Rainey had requested that all except the president and his aides leave the house.

The neighbors from the dining room and others who had stood in the hallway, moved slowly to the porch. When the room was clear, the speaker's widow, who had not appeared during the funeral service, came downstairs and talked with Roosevelt.

Then conversation was prolonged until it was seen to be past time for departure of the president's train set for 5:15. There was not time for the president to go to the cemetery.

Brief Service at Grave Two hundred or more, chiefly neighbors, went to the cemetery for the burial ceremony. There Bishop White conducted a brief service, and the Lord's Prayer was recited.

As the casket was lowered, taps sounded from the bugle of a uniformed American Legion man. Another bugler, some distance away, returned the sound faintly.

Towns along the road on the 56-mile run from East St. Louis to Carrollton, and on the return trip showed their interest by gatherings which extended along the tracks for almost the entire extent.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

What an idea! she echoed triphammer was beating in her throat.

"Well, I didn't know," she said. "You're going—when?" She hadn't meant to ask this question, had determined not to do so, but it tumbled out in spite of her resolutions. The man glanced at her quickly, glanced away.

"Oh, a week—10 days, maybe. Give them time to get somebody here."

"The season's almost over," Boots said quite at random, not heeding her words, nor in fact realizing in the least what she was saying. The dull pain of last night was starting all over again. He was going away—he was going away—she might never see him again!

"Yes!" Russ's big brown hand slipped over her small one, holding it like a prisoner's. She was aware of her pulse beating swiftly.

"Miss me?" his deep voice asked. "Why, of course!" Boots laughed softly, shading her eyes, pretending to peer at a sail far on the horizon. "Naturally."

"Like hell you will," Russ said moodily. "You'll go back to your gang. I," he pronounced steadily and solemnly, "will miss you like the very devil . . ."

The ice about her heart began to break up. Suddenly she came alive.

"Not really!" she said softly, almost caressingly. "Not honestly, Russ. You're just saying that . . ."

She was startled, almost frightened at the strength of the brown hand closing on her wrist. She drew her hand away.

"Don't be like that," he commanded shortly. "You know damn well how I feel about you . . ."

She was breathless. She had to go on, although she knew that way lay danger. "How?" she demanded under her breath.

Presently as she lay stretched out languidly on the sand she heard his voice. "Guess you came when I was giving Mrs. Meredith a lesson."

She looked up swiftly and a sudden rush of telltale color belied her indifference. He was looking at her. He was looking at her. He was looking at her.

Although tinged by sadness, the day was the greatest in Carrollton's history. Flags were at half-mast and over the facades of buildings fluttered the black and white emblems of mourning. From many windows the late speaker's picture, draped in black, looked out.

Two Ex-Convicts in Jail for Attempted Bank Job Monday Bellevue, Ill., Aug. 23 (AP)—Two former convicts, one a fugitive from a kidnapping and murder indictment and the other a convicted murderer and bank robber, are under arrest here for questioning in an attempted bank robbery at Waggoner, Ill., Monday.

One is Leonard (Pretty Boy) Byington, St. Louis, indicted in 1930 in the murder of Bryce Bollin, whose bullet marked body was found in a resort near Granite City which had burned the previous night.

The other is Sam (Red) Harris, who, authorities say, admitted spending 8 years of a 14-year term in Chester penitentiary after a murder sentence, and four terms in Texas and Indiana for bank robberies.

The men were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Shrader and William Miskell of St. Clair county yesterday at Centerville Station, near East St. Louis.

More Teeth in AAA Sought by Administration Congress to be Asked to Pass Number of New Measures

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The AAA has gone to work to draft legislation to strengthen its farm program and perhaps put more teeth in it.

Experts were busy writing new proposals and revising those that failed in the last congress. Measures the AAA considers vital will be laid before the next congress. There is expected to be another fight over some of them.

Chief of the new measures will be a feed storage bill aimed at clarifying, revising, and extending powers to make loans on farm commodities stored under seal.

Loans were made the past year on corn and cotton, partially under authority of state warehousing laws. The proposed law would eliminate variations in the state measures to do away with red tape.

Back Wallace's Plan It also will seek to put Secretary Wallace's plan for "ever-normal" granaries into effect. Grains and cotton would be held on the farms under government loans but farmers would have to sell when the price reached a fixed point.

Yesterday's action by President Roosevelt in setting a new loan limit of 12 cents on cotton stored under government sanction was regarded by some observers as the first step in line with this policy.

Some of the "teeth in the AAA" requested by a group of middle-western farm bureau leaders may be provided in amendments now being drawn. For one thing they would seek to outlaw "profiteering" on food and livestock feed.

N. Y. City's Population New York City's population was 6,031,838, according to the census of 1930, although yellow fever had driven away many residents who could afford to go.
